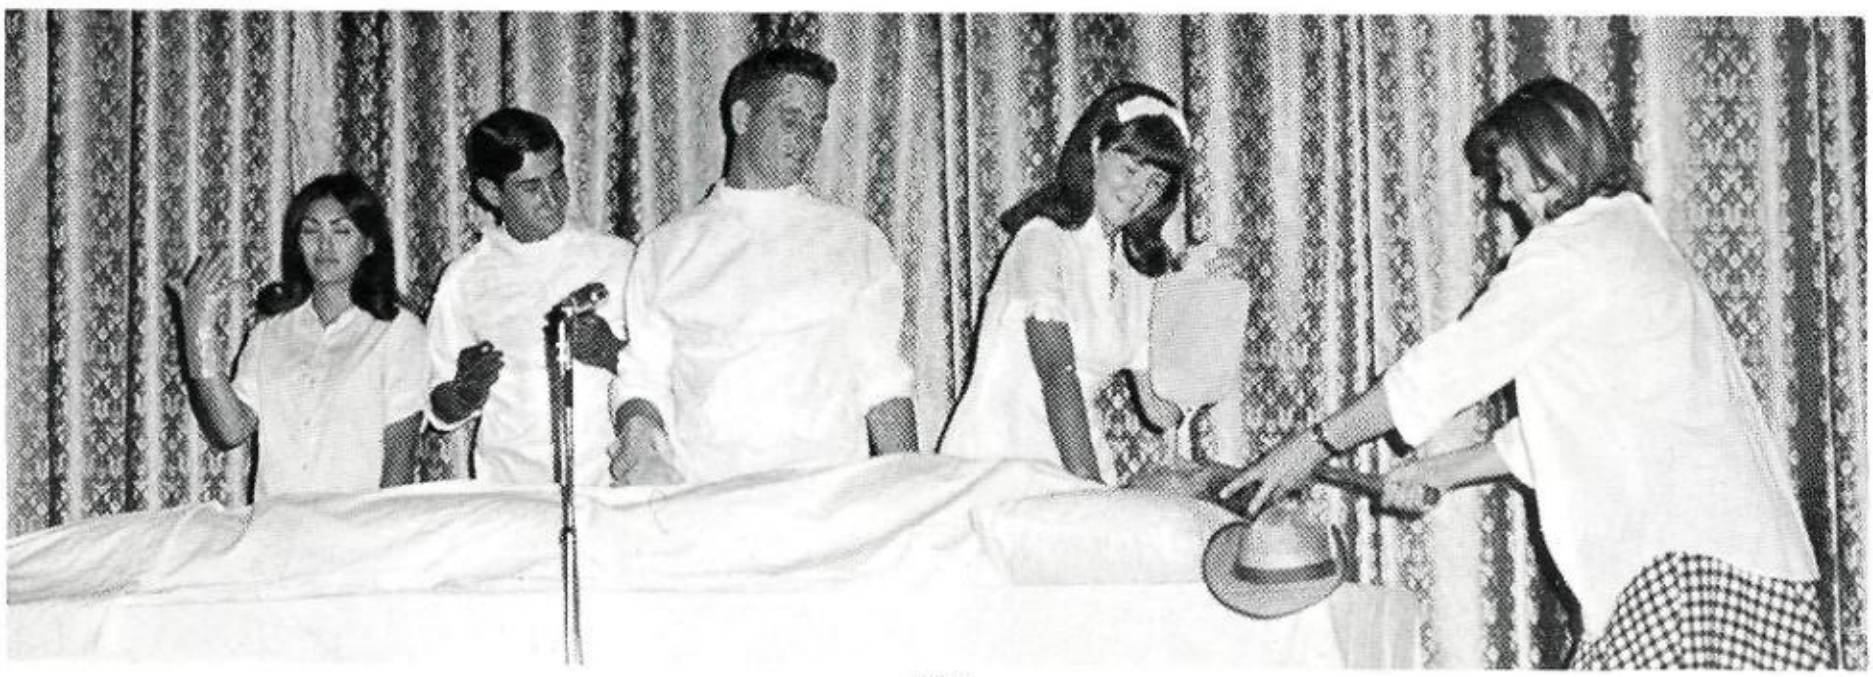
Purpose of the Student Council Organization is to express student opinion, promote harmonious relations throughout the school, provide a central office for many school activities, maintain high school morale, and provide a training ground for leaders and followers.

Cathy Doolittle and Peggy Sears, assisted by Teresa Gonzales, Bobby Thomae, and Binford Knight, are removing, from Jimmy Jordan, the vital organs that hinder school spirit. The operation was presented during Spirit Week.



Inter Club Harmony

Student Councils cannot function properly without a competent source relaying their projects to the student body. Our council is the same; therefore, the task of informing fellow students is given to the advisory representatives. (pictured above).

Council Members, Janice Rooker and Peggy Sears, create stage background for the Student Council Talent Show.

Student Council members, Alice Smith and Bobby Thomae entertain the student body with western music during Rodeo Week.

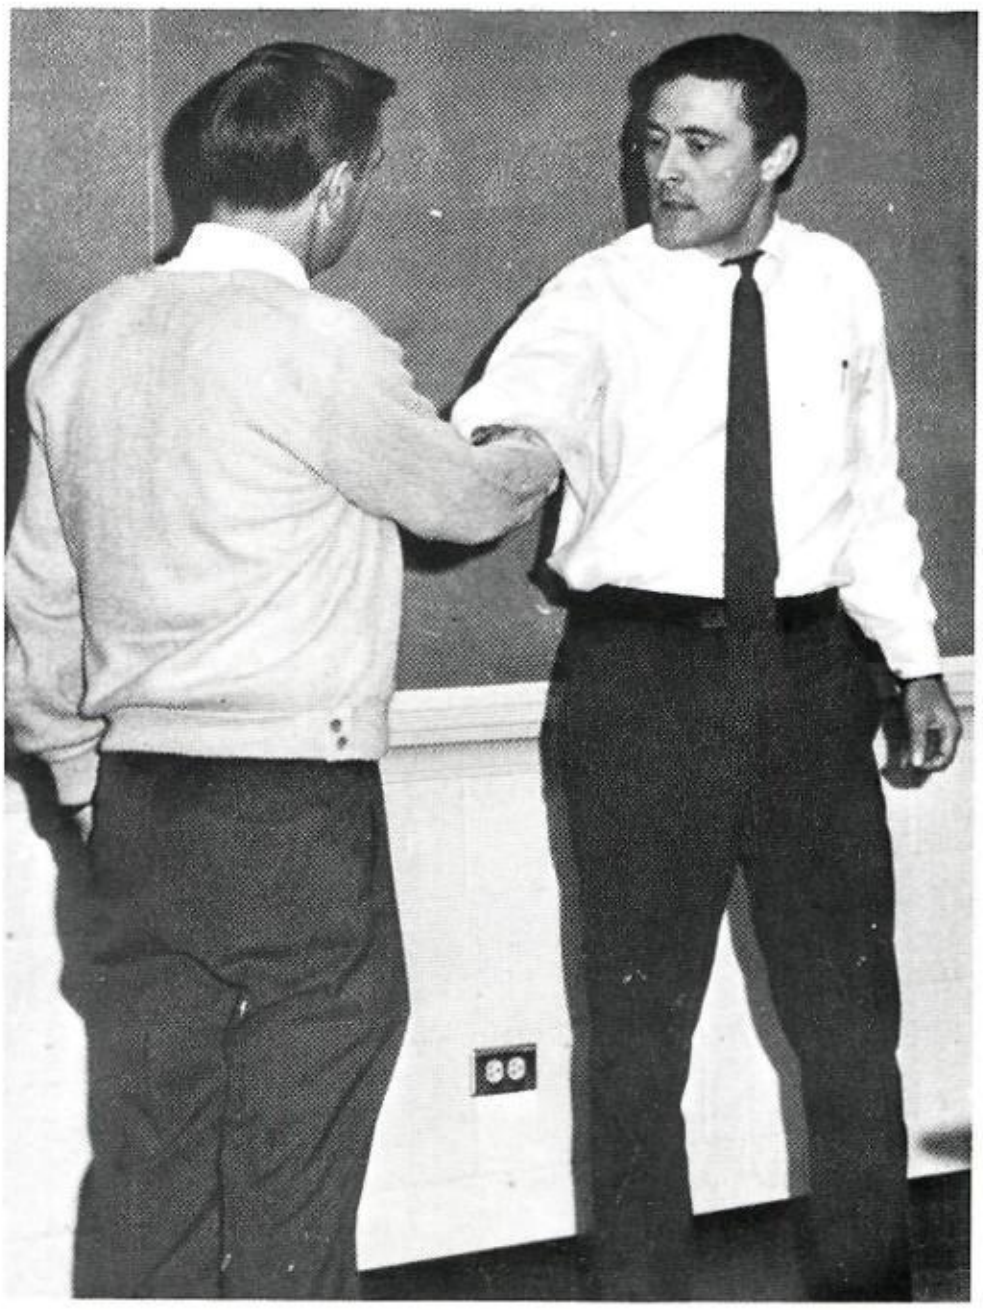
n Dramatic Arts

The Speech and Drama Club got back into the swing of things in mid-September and kept swinging in attempt to bring culture to the McCollum campus through the medium of drama. New members decided to give the old club a facelifting and changed its name to the Cowboy Players.

The unacoustical auditorium finally began to boom with the echo of line recitations. Try-outs for the annual Tri-C play were held with all four parts going to club members. A month of rehearsals passed and the efforts of Mrs. Beverly Cook, director, and her cast resulted in the production of Samuel Caufield's "Dream World."

Dream sequences faded and club members were back to work. Fortunate in having an inside contact in the form of Mr. Durwood Hargett, the players, in conjunction with the Latin Club, managed to stage a demonstration and critique of the "then current" Billboard Theater production of "Julius Caesar." Mr. Robb Webb was brought to the campus and he and Mr. Hargett thundered through the Shakespearian drama much to the delight of the standing room only audience.



Club Honors Actors

The senior play drew on the resources of the Players to fill its cast. "Little Nell the Orphan Girl" or "Fight for a Woman's Honor" was the melodramatic epic of an orphaned girl, pursued by a villain and saved by a dashing heroic "good guy."

The end of the season came and the Players held their annual banquet honoring members who were deemed most outstanding. Honored were Melanie Moore (best actress), Robert Fletcher (best actor), Toni Gautney (Technical award), and Toni Zuehl (Theater award).

Mrs. Beverly Cook presents Melanie Moore with best actress award.

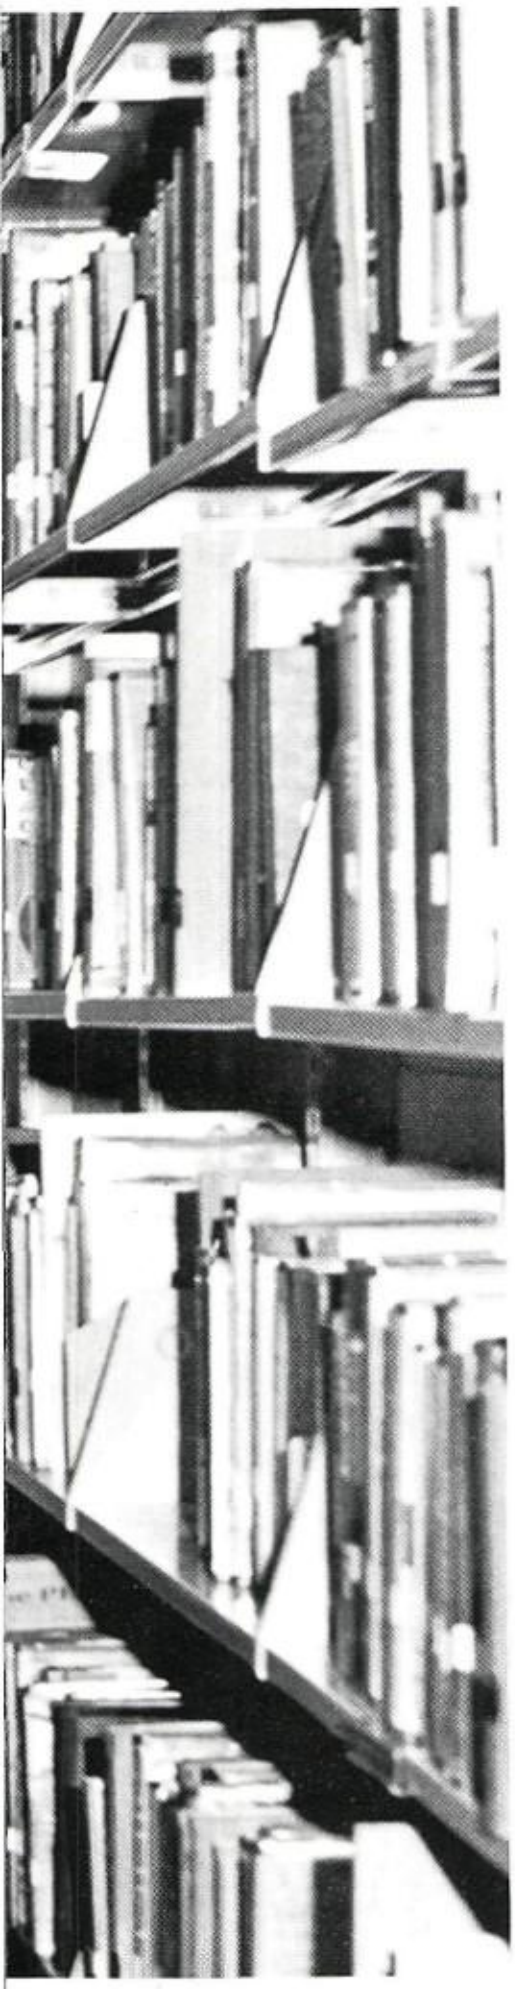
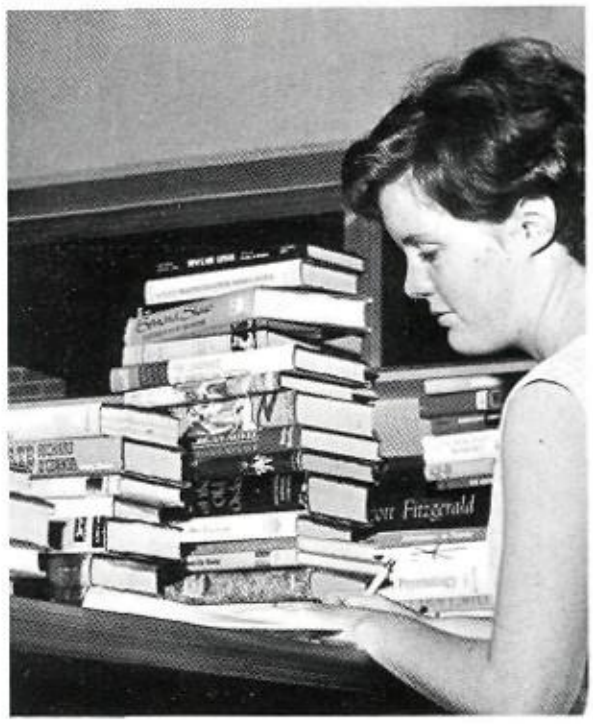
Many Books Pave

McCollum High School isn't what one would call a "Big School" but by no means could it be called small. Driving by the school, one sees several buildings, quite a lot of land and what seems to be miles of chain link fencing. What people do not see and realize are the hundreds of people within the walls, grounds, and fences who are attempting to educate one another. From 8:30 'til 3:30, 5 days a week the students and teachers endure the prescribed hours of instruction. Before 8:30 and after 3:30, the faculty and students enjoy the free exchange of ideas and opinion which broadened the scope of learning far beyond the confines of the classroom. To the people of McCollum, the school is much more than grounds, buildings, and fences–it is a place of learning plus the people plus the aspects of education which make the task of school a more pleasant experience.

Road To Education



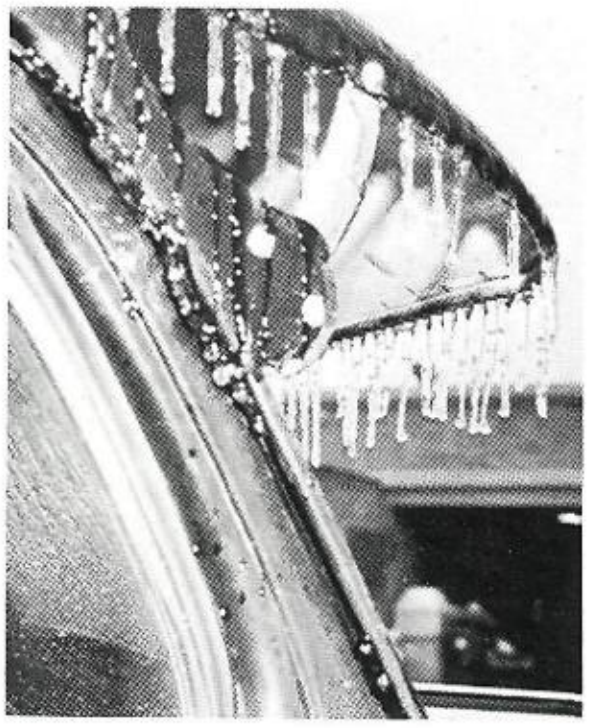
Ahhh—the library. What would McCollum be without the coaches' encouraging remarks to their scholarly pupils in study hall? How could the Library function without the soothing quieting reminders from Mesdames Harp and Myers? And what would the students do without a place to read the latest magazines and drink ice water? Imagine how anyone could skip such an educational 55 minutes?

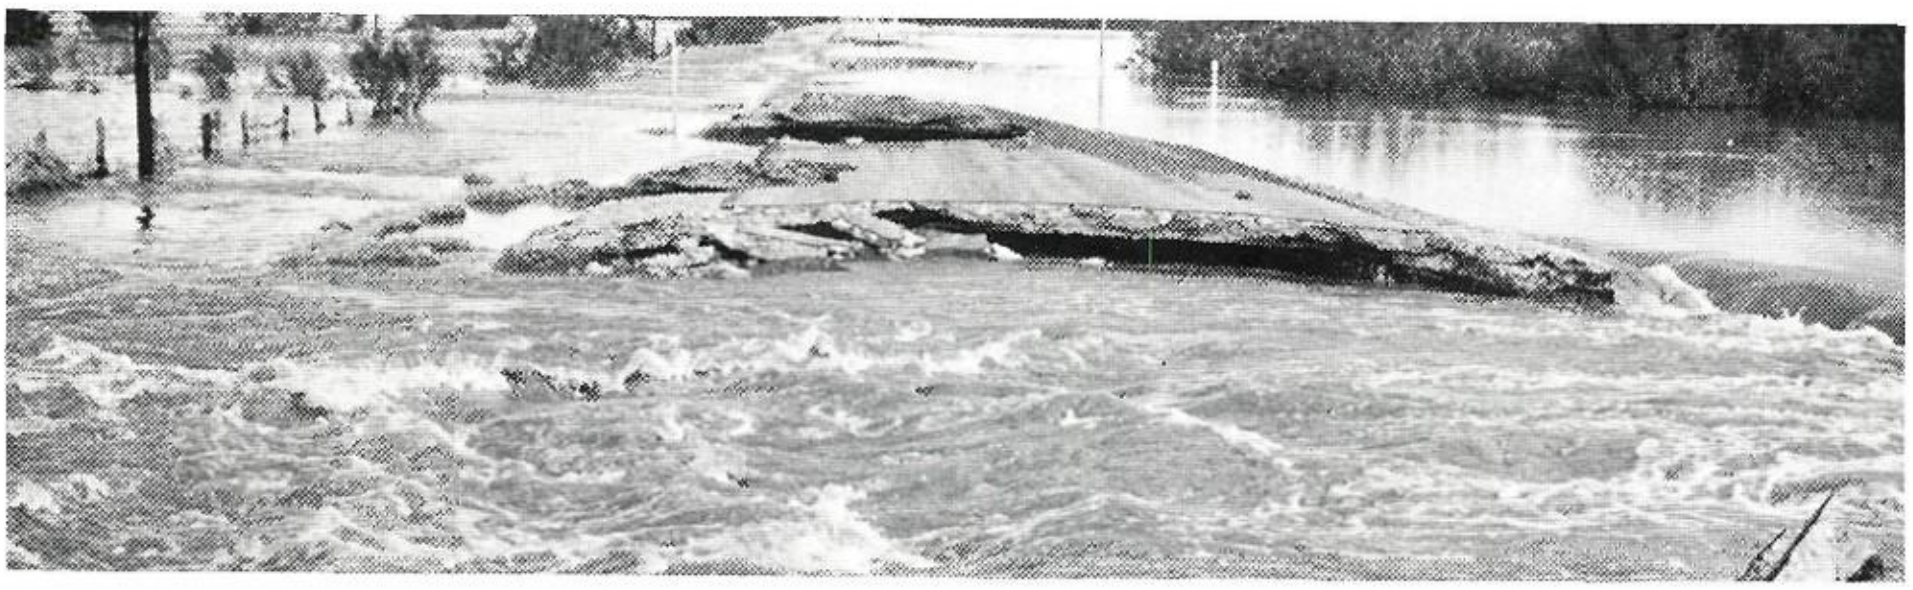


Upon entering these hallowed halls each autumn, a student encounters a barrage of lines, among which the longest is the one before the book room. As the various texts are thrown, slid, and stacked into some semblence of order the Cowboy begins to wonder if he might be wrong in choosing biology instead of art I. Before the week is over he may also wonder at the wisdom which compelled him to even consider eliminating study hall.

Team Names Sweetheart

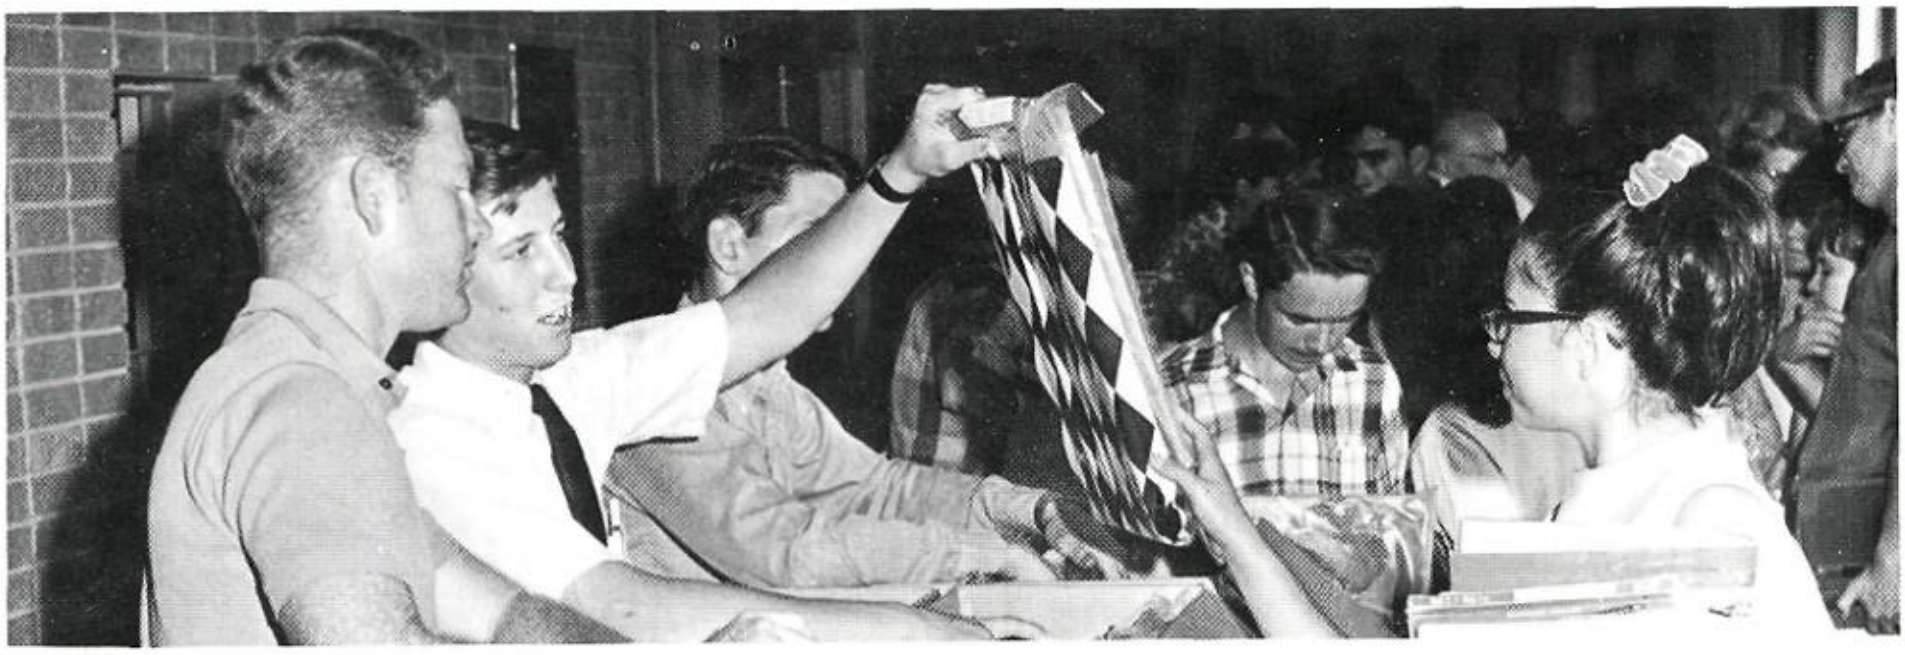
Autumn is traditionally known as typhoon season on the southside. What would the fall be without a flood in good old Six Mile Creek? This year the regular heavy seasonal rains in combination with Hurricane Beulah brought on a more tragic note with three fatalities on the washed-out bridge on old Pleasanton Road. Later, ice and rain were to combine to turn the McCollum parking lot into a wintery mess.





The skys cleared and it was time to crown the '67 Football Sweetheart. The game against the Holmes Huskies was chosen as the appropriate time for the event, Candidates for the coveted title were Loretta Mueller, Melanie Moore, Susan Dossett, Cindy Howard, and Virginia Cupp. Making the presentation at halftime were Bruce Vetters and Butch Barberi, members of the Junior Varsity Football Team. Sweetheart Virginia Cupp received a dozen red roses along with a traditional congratulatory kiss, crown & football necklace.

Cowboys Form Lines



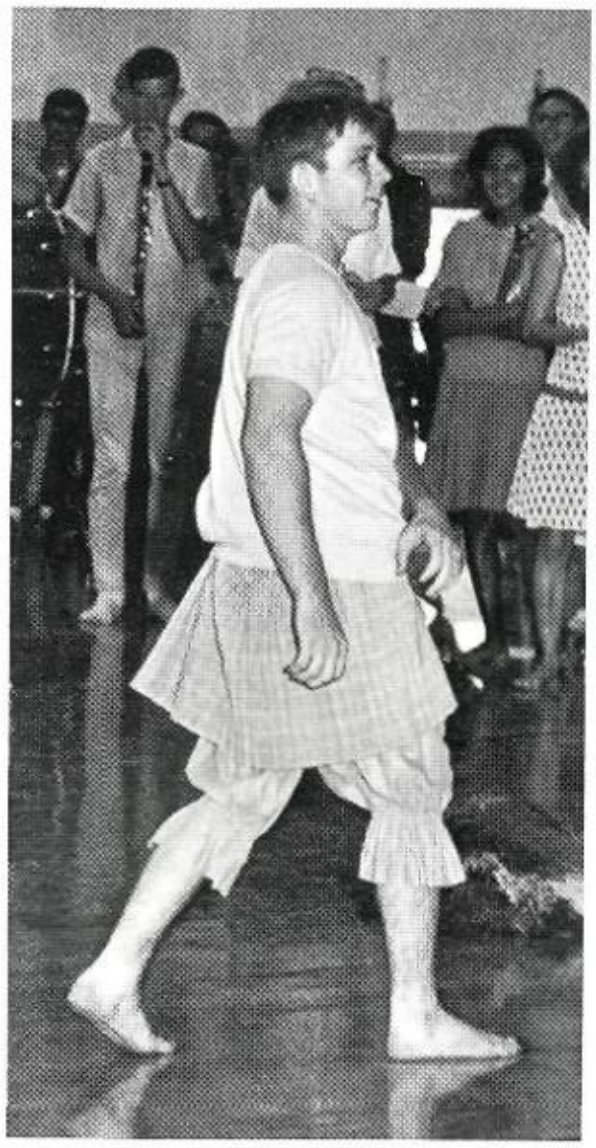
"Stand in line and wait" is the first activity one learns upon entering an institution of learning. This situation exists from the time one enters the line into the parking lot before school, faces the daily ordeal of climbing or descending stairs and risking his life in the cafeteria lines, 'til he finds it is time to once more gather his courage and attempt again the parking lot crowds. When ordering senior rings or caps and gowns, paying for your Wrangler, or posing for yearbook pictures, students can be seen shifting their weight from foot to foot trying to keep the circulation going.

Cheerleaders Encourage

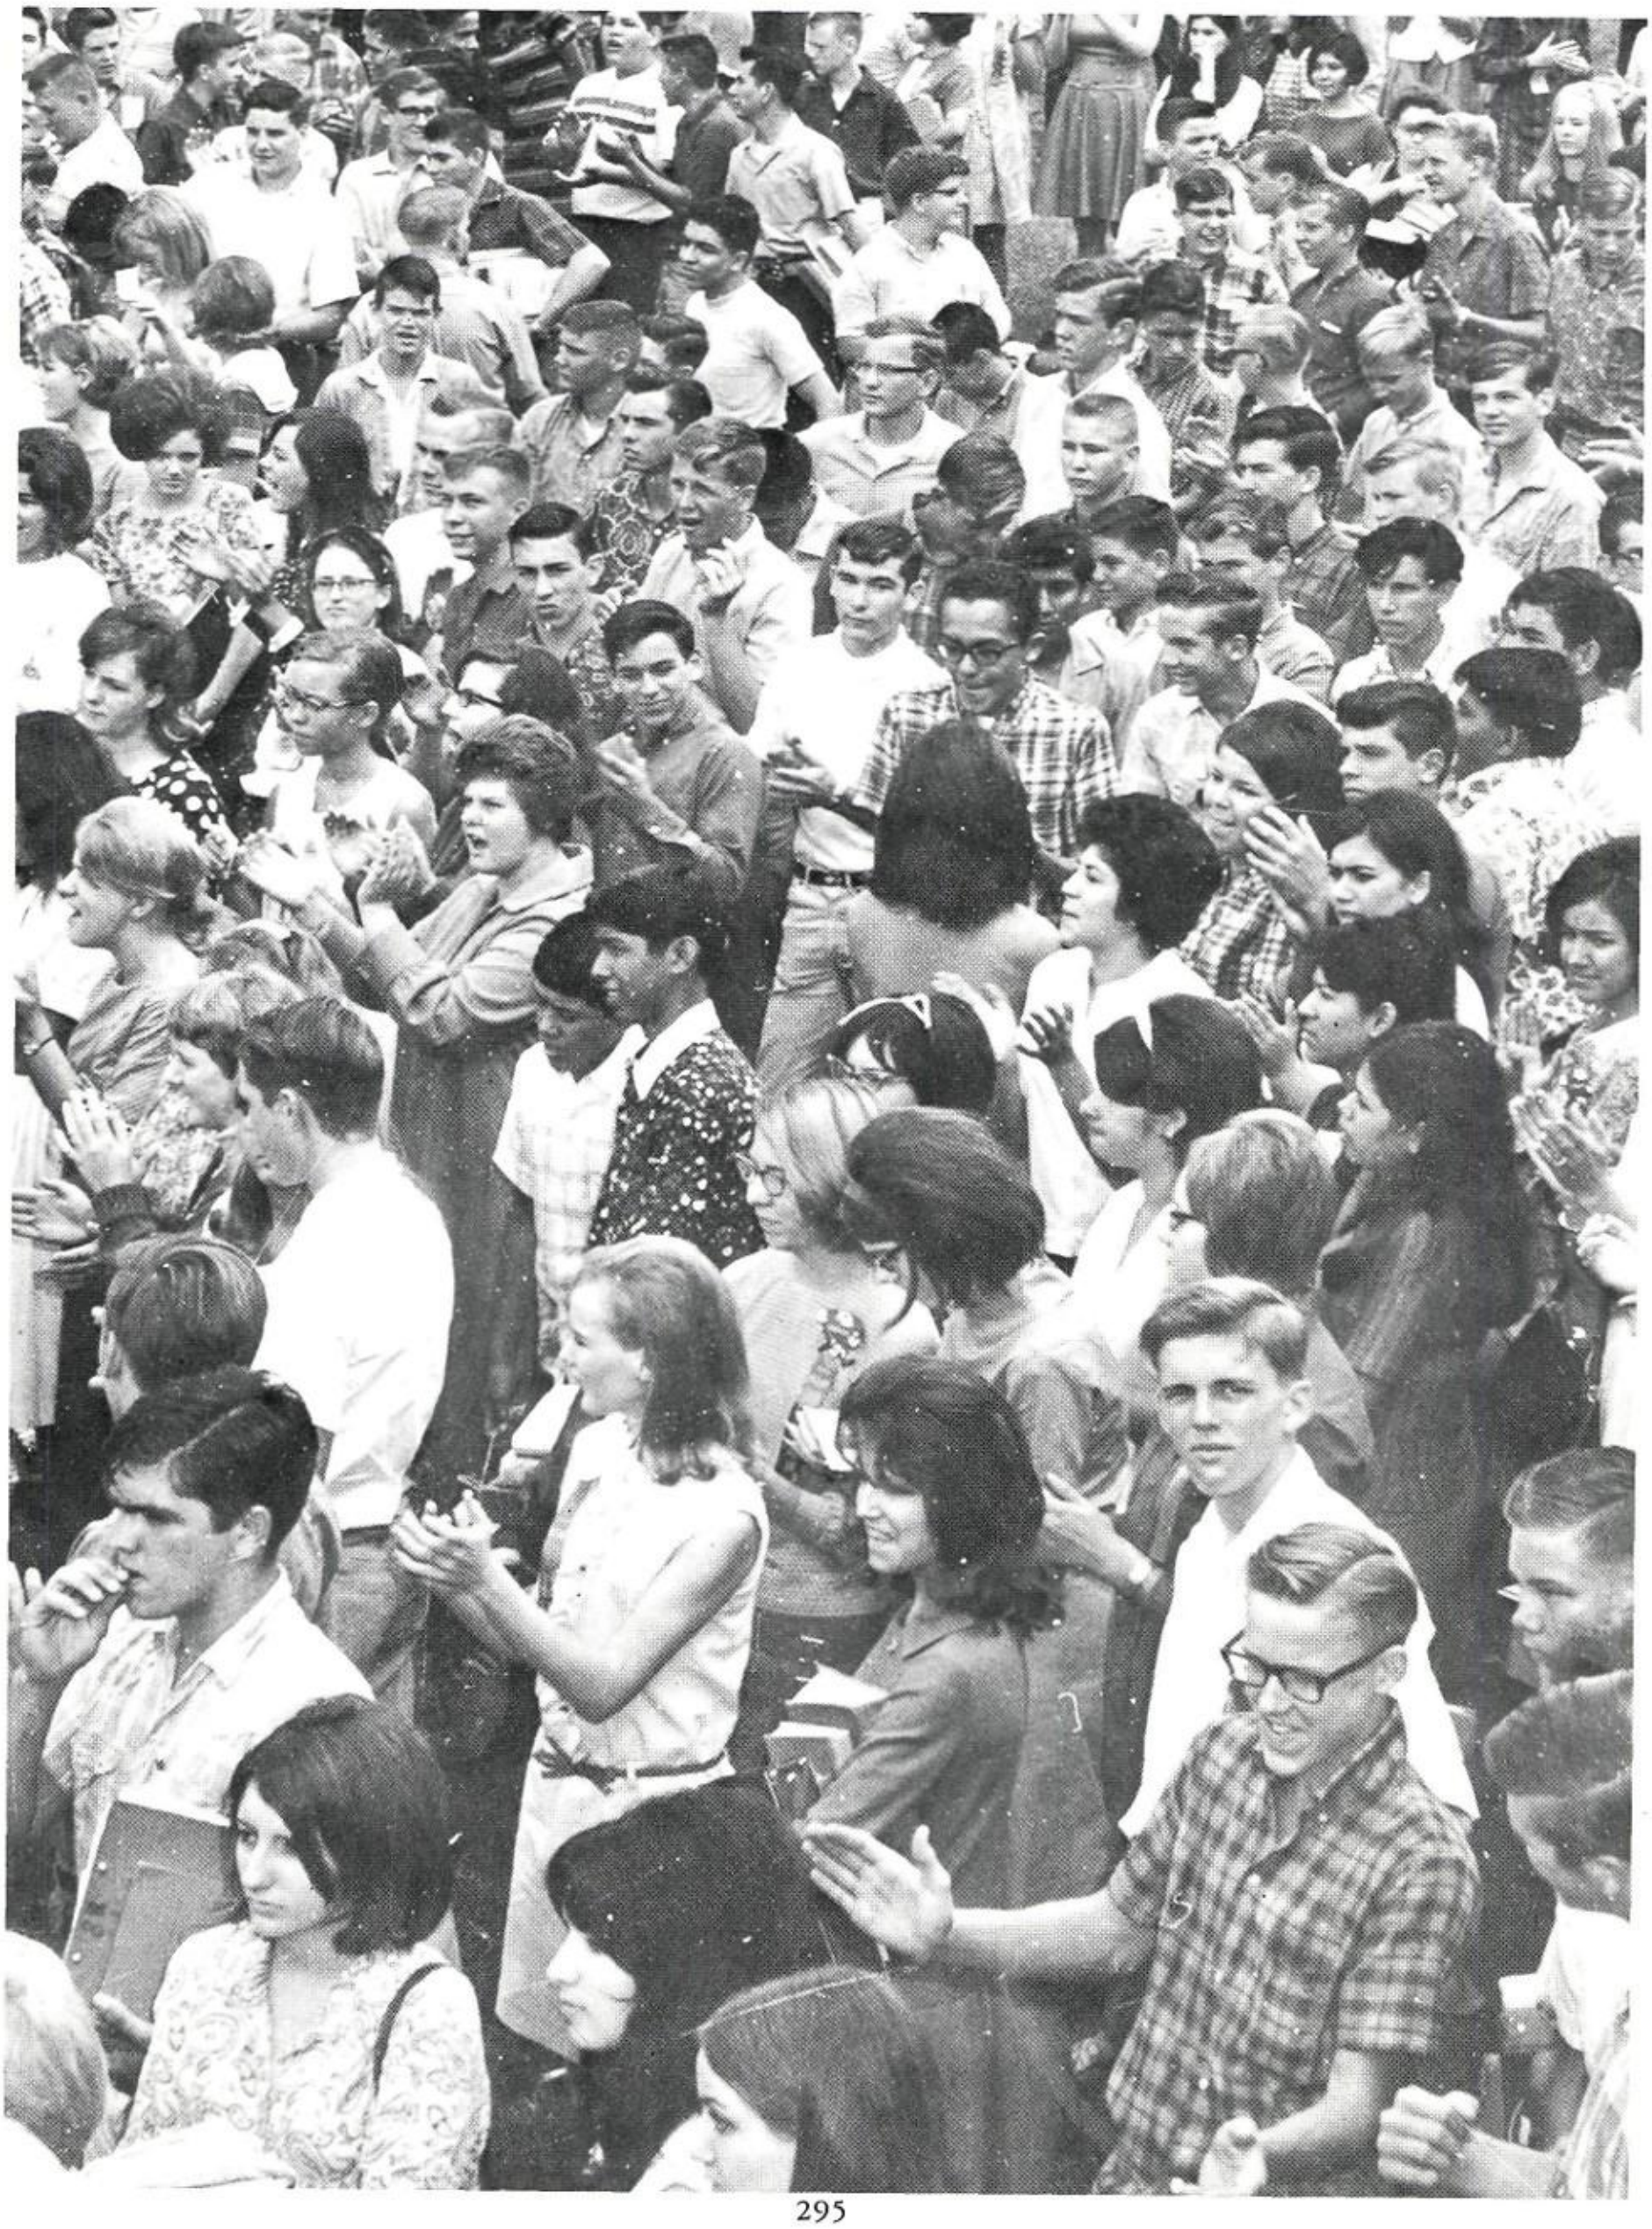
Even for the not so sports minded student, fifty cents admission charge was a small price to pay for the treat of watching this year's cheerleaders perform at football and basketball games. At pep rallys, athletic events, and everywhere they went, the girls carried with them the same spirit that kept students cheering through many v-i-c-t-o-r-y battle cry competitions for dear ole "Mc".

Throughout the fall Toni Gautney, Cindy Hicks, Loretta Mueller, Cindy Howard, and Valerie Weynand enlightened our Fridays with some of the most clever skits the Cowboy gym has seen. When football season was over and the cold north wind brought with it their longer skirted basketball uniforms, the diehard five kept clapping to cc-cow-bb-boys.

If awards would be given for undying zeal one would undoubtedly go to the cheerleaders. No other group of students have had the same spirited effect on the McCollum campus.



School Spirit Display



Awards Night Honors

In every senior class there is a group of students who have gone beyond the call of duty in their diligent pursuit of knowledge. Selected from this group are those students worthy of the departmental awards known as Senior Honors. Chosen to receive the awards were Kathy Spurlock (Art), Cindy Hicks (Spanish), Virginia Cupp (Tri C's), Loretta Mueller (Social Science), Debbie Shussler (Band), Jeanette Bartosh (Science), JoNell Carmichael (Math), Irene Gonzales (Homemaking), Tina Nabors (Business), Gary Stoops (English), Danny Akeroyd (VHO), David Hill (Social Science), James Schoomam (Refrigeration—Air Conditioning), Gary Palmer (Auto—Mechanics), Mike Barnhart (Business), Mike Dirmeier (Math), John Dabney (Art); Earl Snoga (Journalism), Archie Laskowski (DE), Luther Beck (ROTC), Gary Pack (Boy's Sports And Honorable Mention American Legion Award), Alfred Altimirano (Spanish), Glenn Woods (Electronics), Gilbert Ruiz (VOE), Danny Criswell (Latin), David Aguilar (Band), Ernest Meurer (Science), Carlos Saenz (Drafting), Sherry Jordan (DE), Pat Haiduk (VOE, Melanie Moore (Speech and drama), Della Kisby (Girls PE), Johanna Burroughs (English), Toni Zuehl (Latin), Janet McQuaid (Choir), and Linda Johnson (Journalism and American Legion Award).

Outstanding Seniors

Many Scholastic awards were presented.

Cowboys Express

Happiness In Dancing

Dancing has always been an expression of happiness and joy in life. The dances held at McCollum typify the ways Cowboys act when happy. The dances are as varied as the music to which they are performed. From the bugaloo to the fox trot, the Cowboys are pros to them all. The Round-Up Dance, held in the autumn, begins the year in an informal get-acquainted mood. As the year progresses and people begin to learn, know and work with one another better, the dances become more sophisticated and more well organized. The Green and Gold Prom in May culminates the dance year at McCollum with the announcements of next year's organizational leaders.

On The Spot Team

After a week of studying the newspaper and remembering how to think, JoNell Carmichael, Virginia Cupp, Captain David Hill, and Michael Dirmeier were ready to face their first opponents. Although no questions were asked concerning their favorite news makers, Abigail van Buren and Winnie Winkle, our "On the Spot" team showed their erudition included other pics. The McCollum panel beat Brackenridge 370-40. Exultant in their first victory, the team finished undefeated after winning the second week over Lanier, by a score of 190-90.

Defeats Two Schools

But this was only the dramatic climax. The sophisticated noetics the viewers saw on KENS those two Sundays were the same frantic readers who endeavored so intently to read and remember every article. Behind the scenes, fingernails were worn and hearts were pounding as Miss Ruby McPherson, team sponsor, and alternates Brenda Atwood, Julie Gonzalez, Julie Ebeling, Tommy Ragsdale, and James Gore waited in the private viewing room. Before the show, the contestants themselves showed they were not quite as cool as they would like to be. For the finale, however, they left a legacy for next year's team—winning and not tripping over camera wires.

"A primary purpose of education is for everybody to learn how to make trouble in this world." National Honor Society Junior induction was very fortunate in being host to noted artist and lecturer, Mrs. Amy Freeman Lee. The topic for the day, Nonconformity+communicativeness+creativity=concern, proved to be the basis for the most outstanding speech yet heard on the McCollum campus.

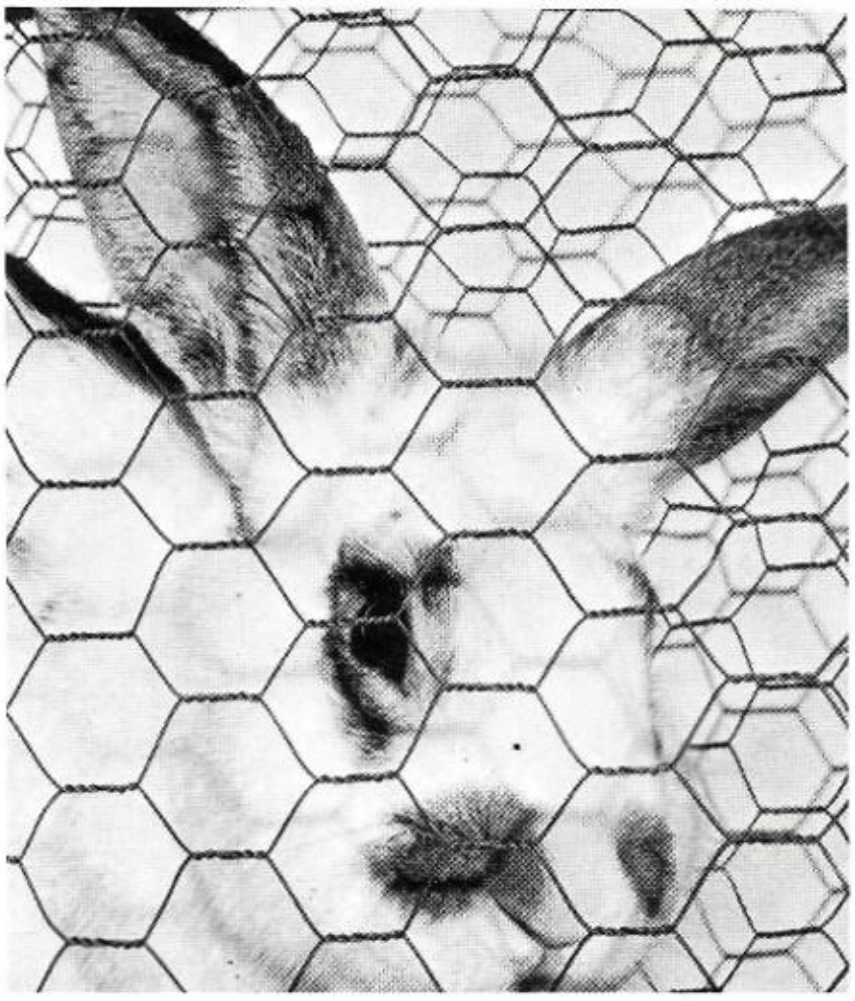
F.H.A. Visits Orphanage

Aside from their many charitable projects around the school such as sewing on detached buttons, repairing ripped shirts and remaking tattered trousers, the FHA girls found time to hold a party for orphaned children at the San Antonio Children's Shelter. Future Homemakers and children alike enjoyed an afternoon of games which included "London Bridge," "Farmer in the Dell," and "Ring around the Rosies." Some of the more devoted girls offered the willing children their backs for free piggy back rides.

McCollum students, like all teenagers, like to eat. To accommodate this pleasurable necessity many organizations and special interest groups (academic and athletic) present awards and honors to their members at banquets held throughout the year. Even though the calibur of the food varies somewhat, from tamales to filet mignon, everyone seems to have an enjoyable time.

Banquets Honor Students

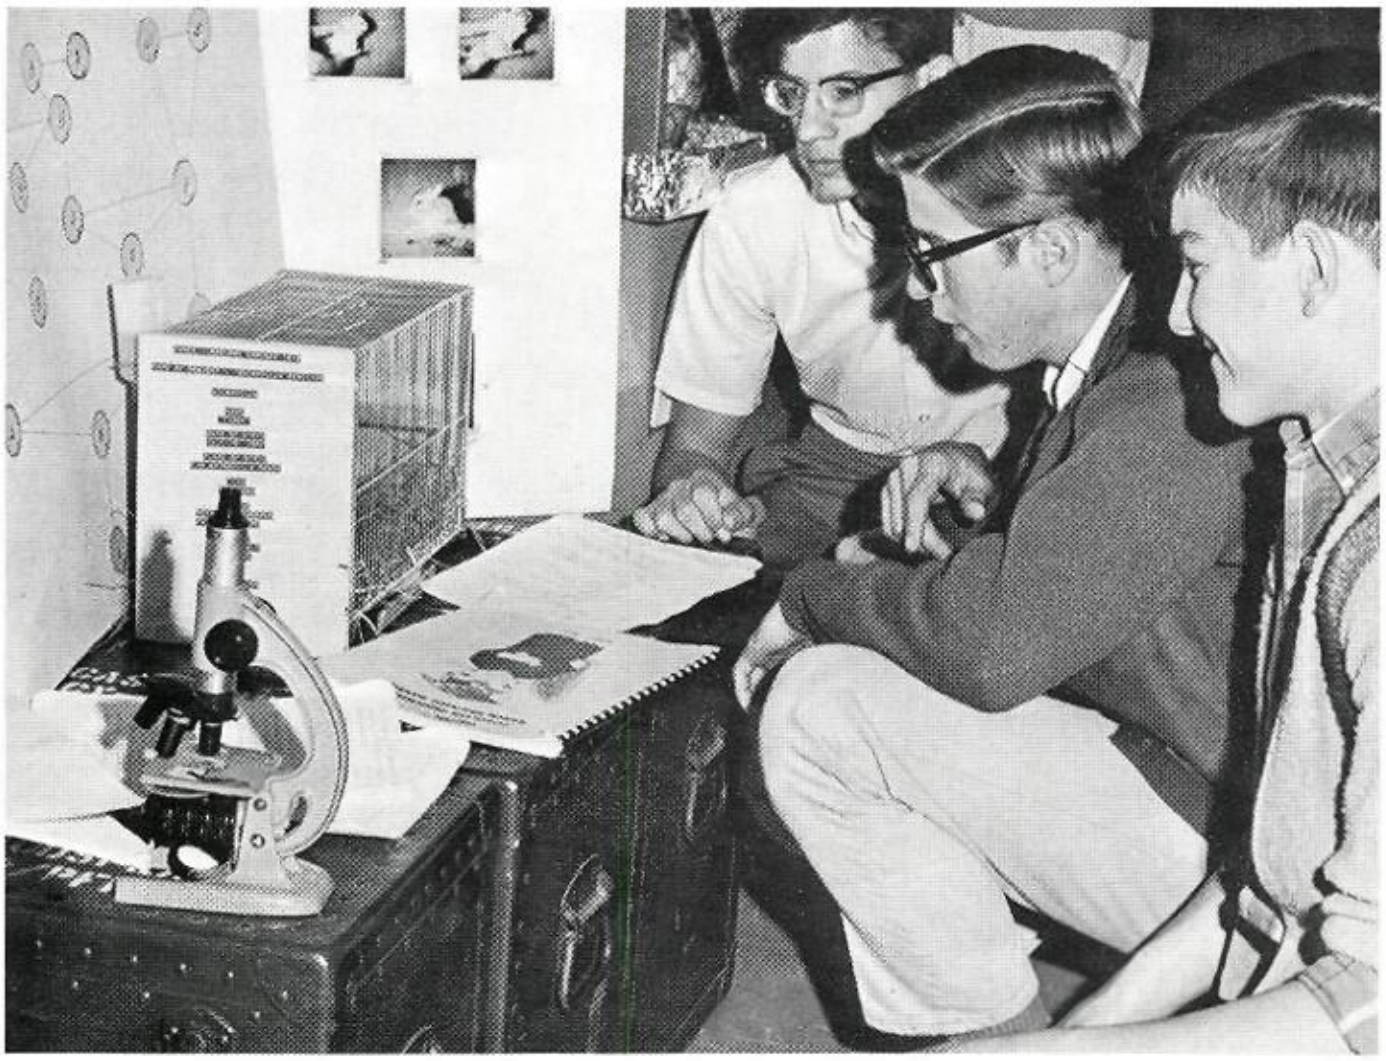
Departments Sponsor



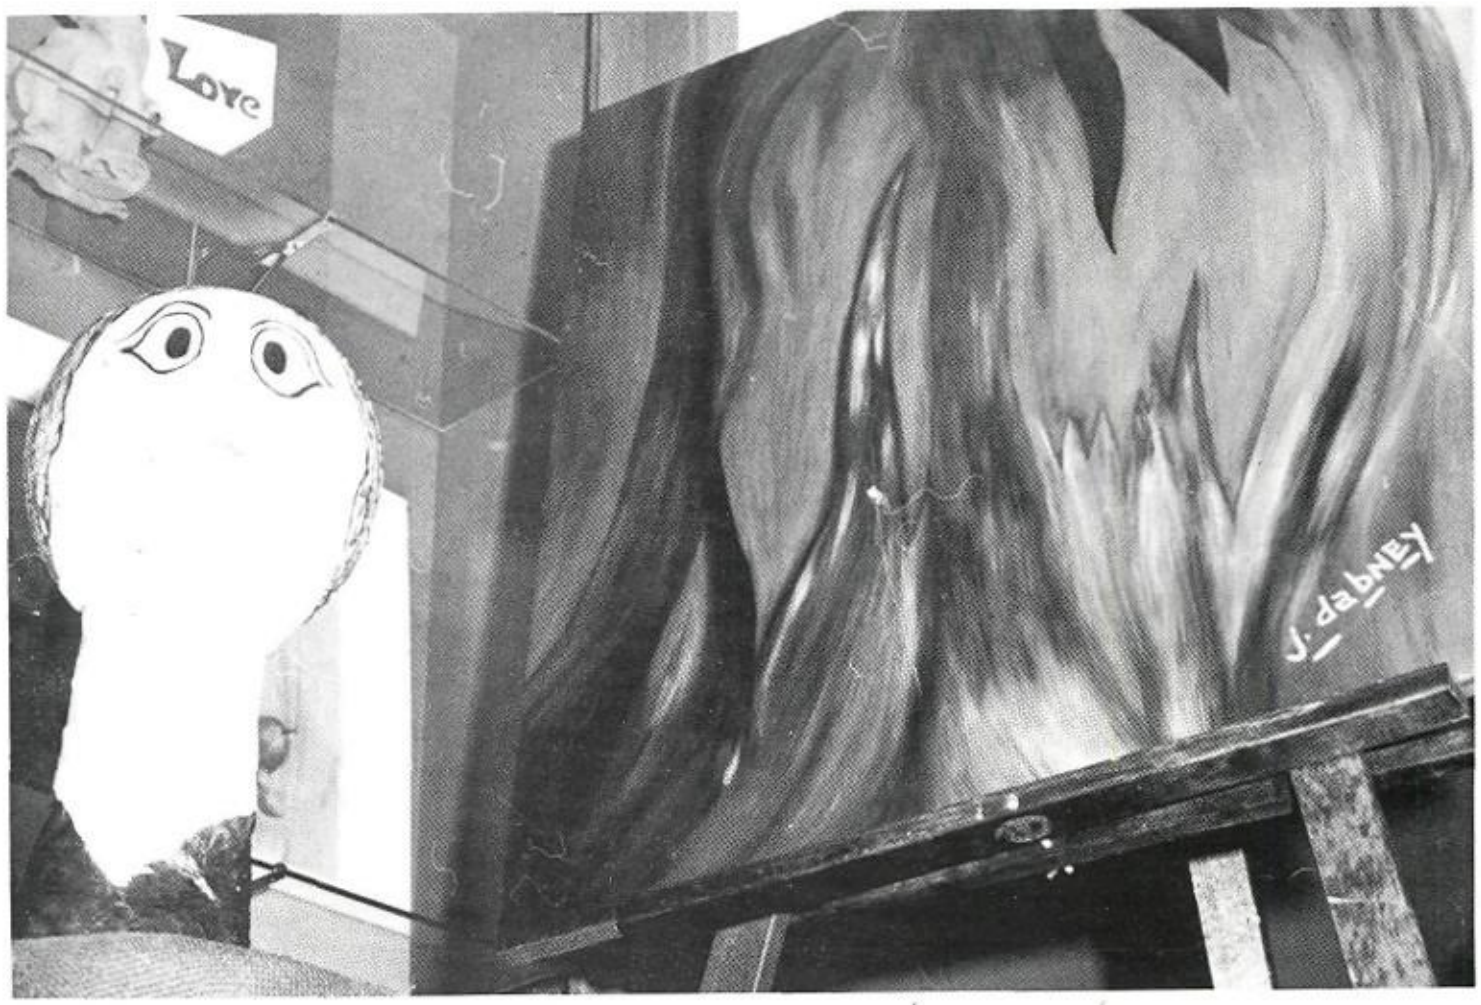
In addition to the entertainment furnished by the many talent shows and assemblies, two educational and cultural programs were sponsored by the Biology Club and the Fine Arts Department. Science projects from Biology and Chemistry classes were displayed.

Winning projects were sent to Trinity for further competition.

The band and choir spring festival was augmented by an art exhibit of original sculpture and paintings by aspiring art students. Through such efforts interest in scientific and cultural endeavors is stimulated.

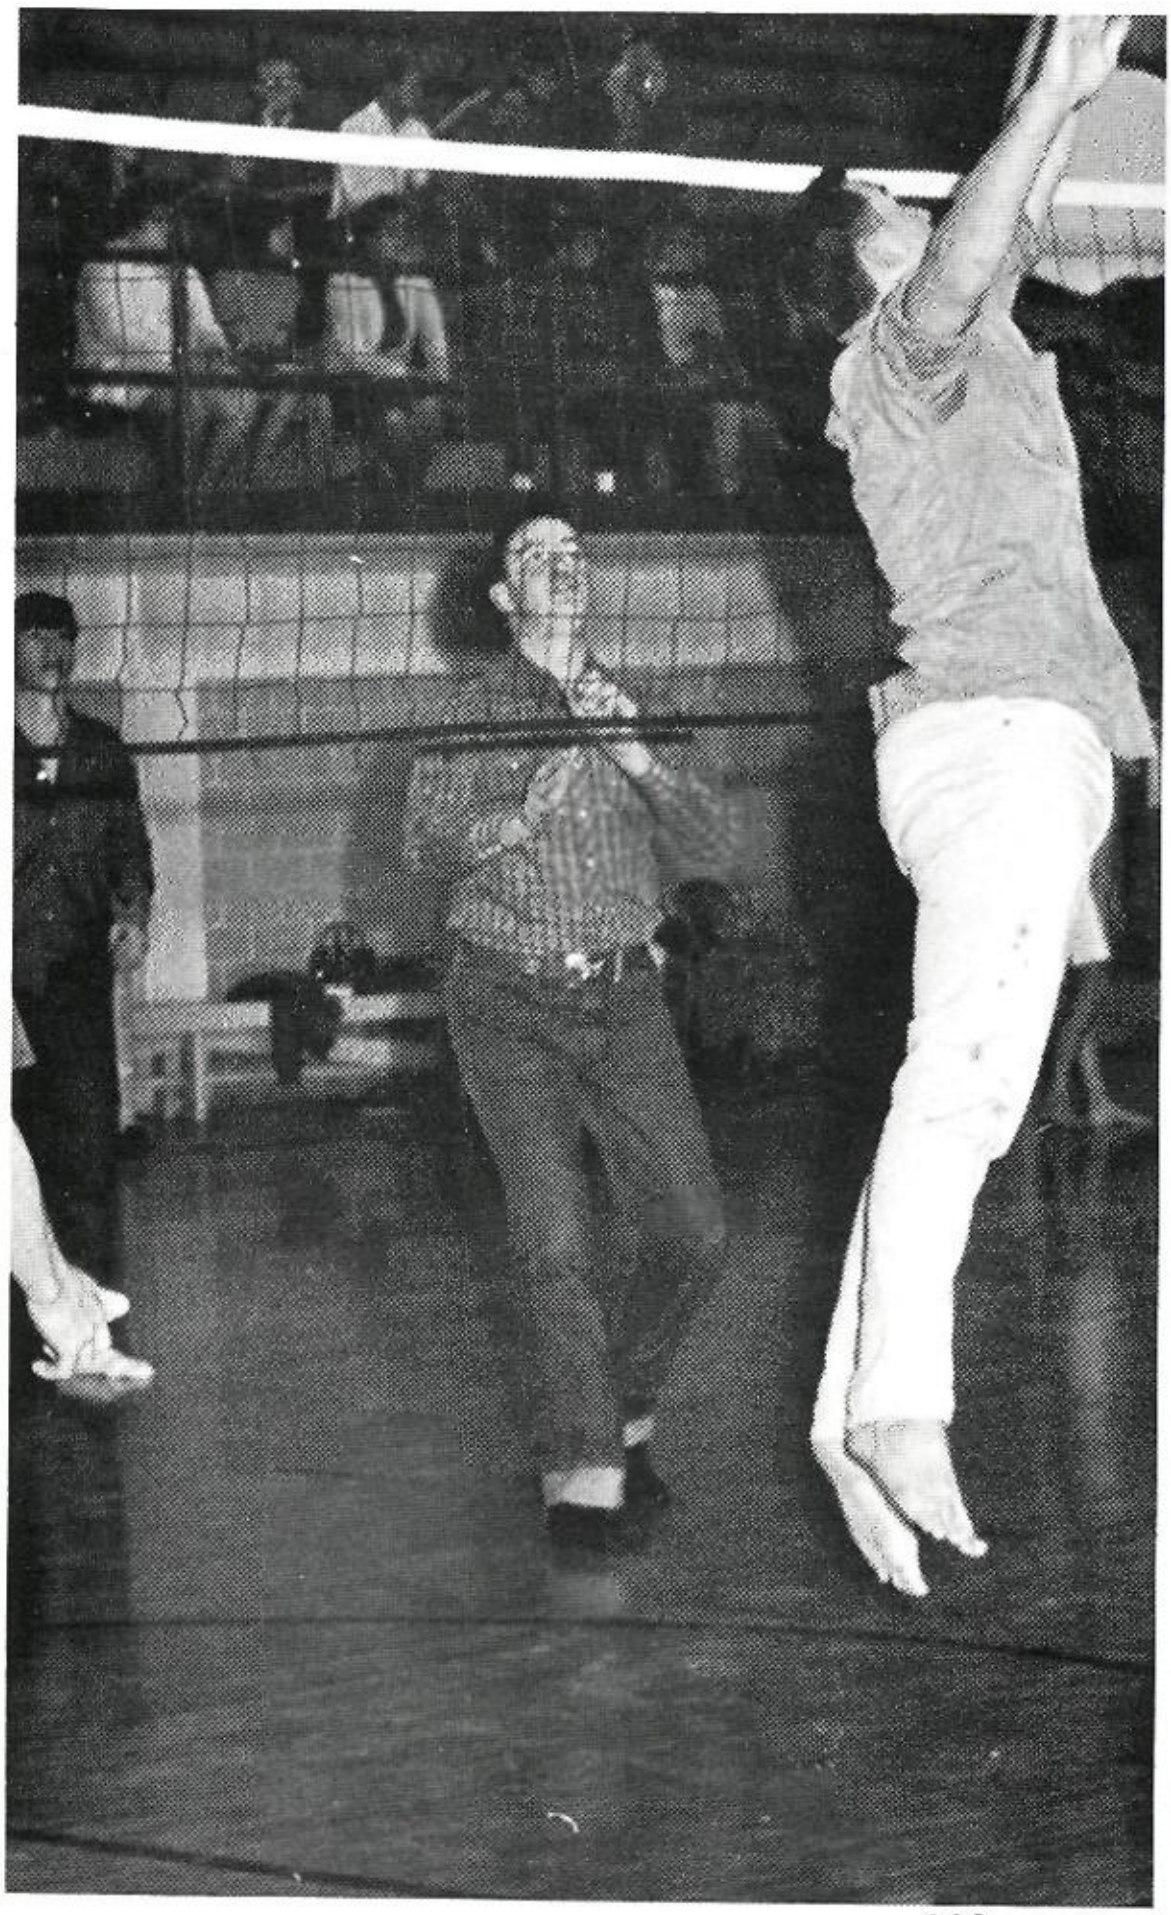


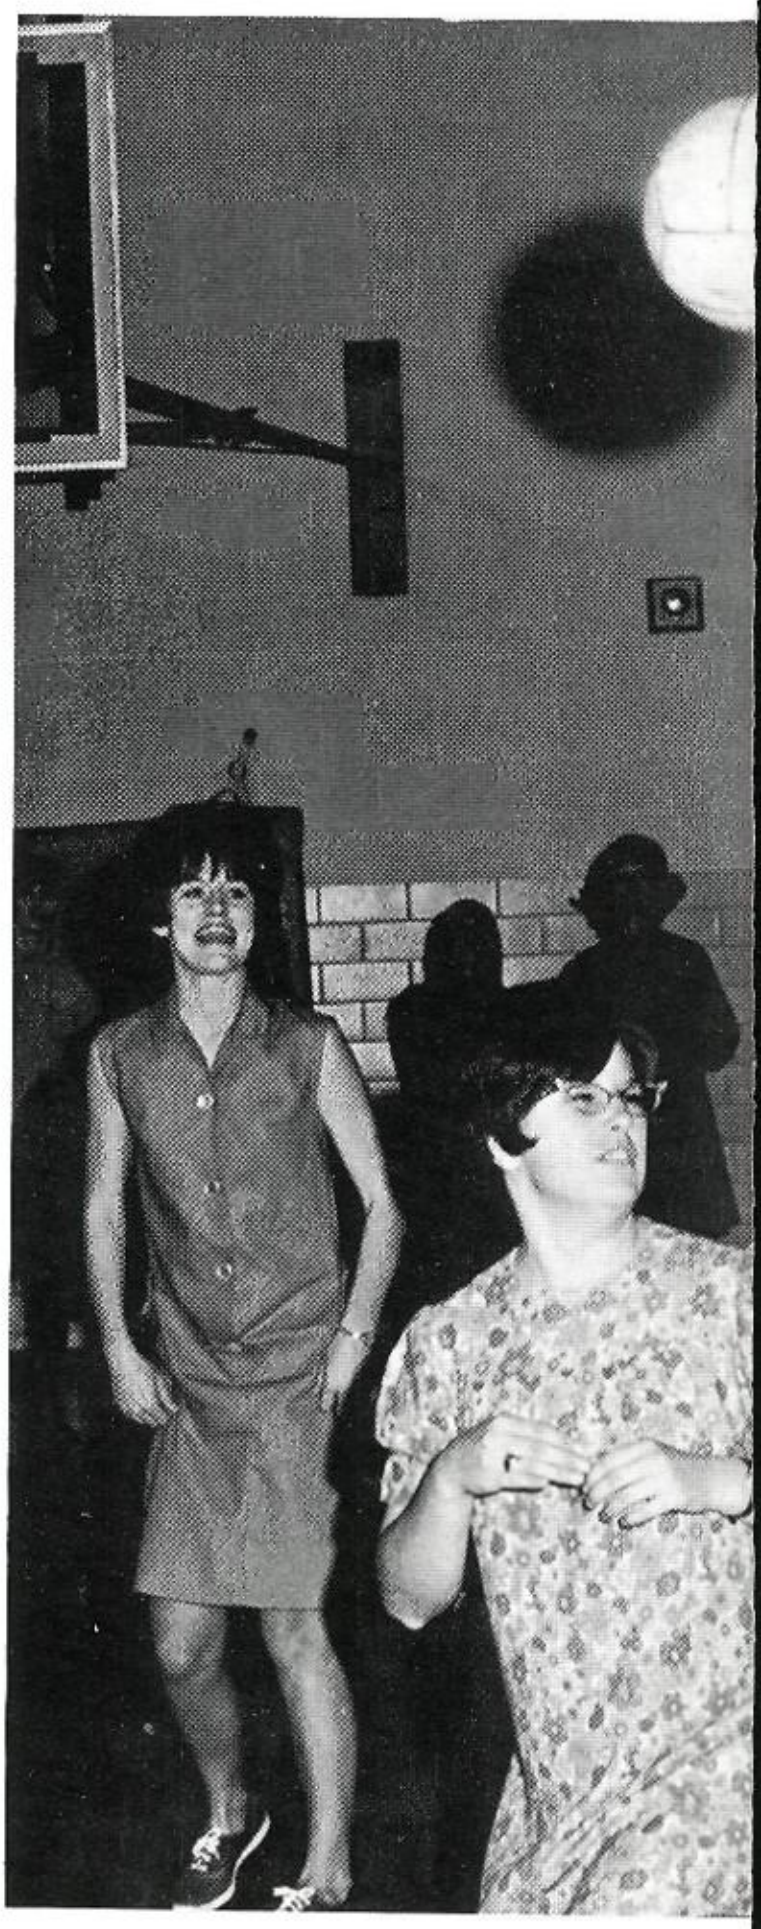
Educational Exhibits



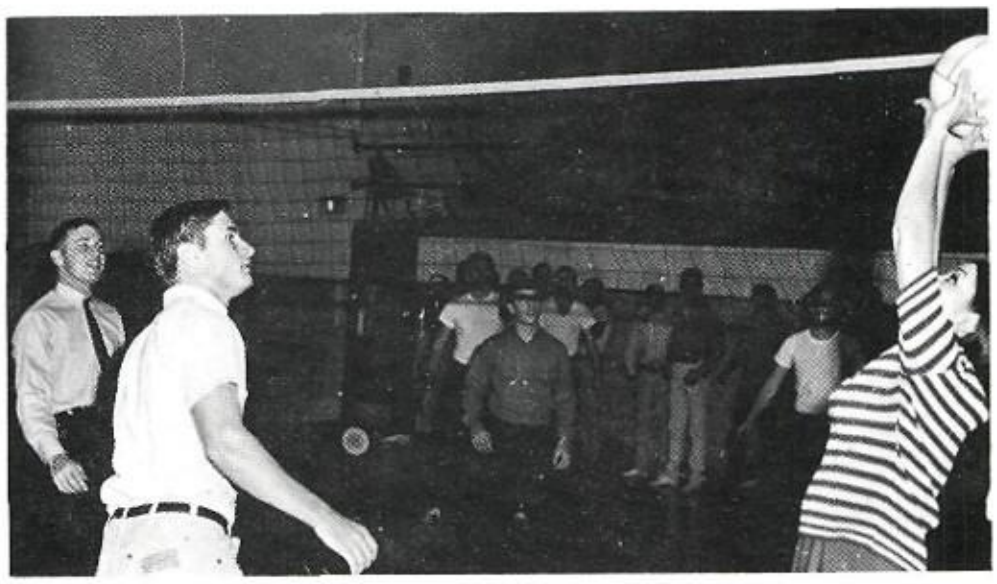
Intramural Sports

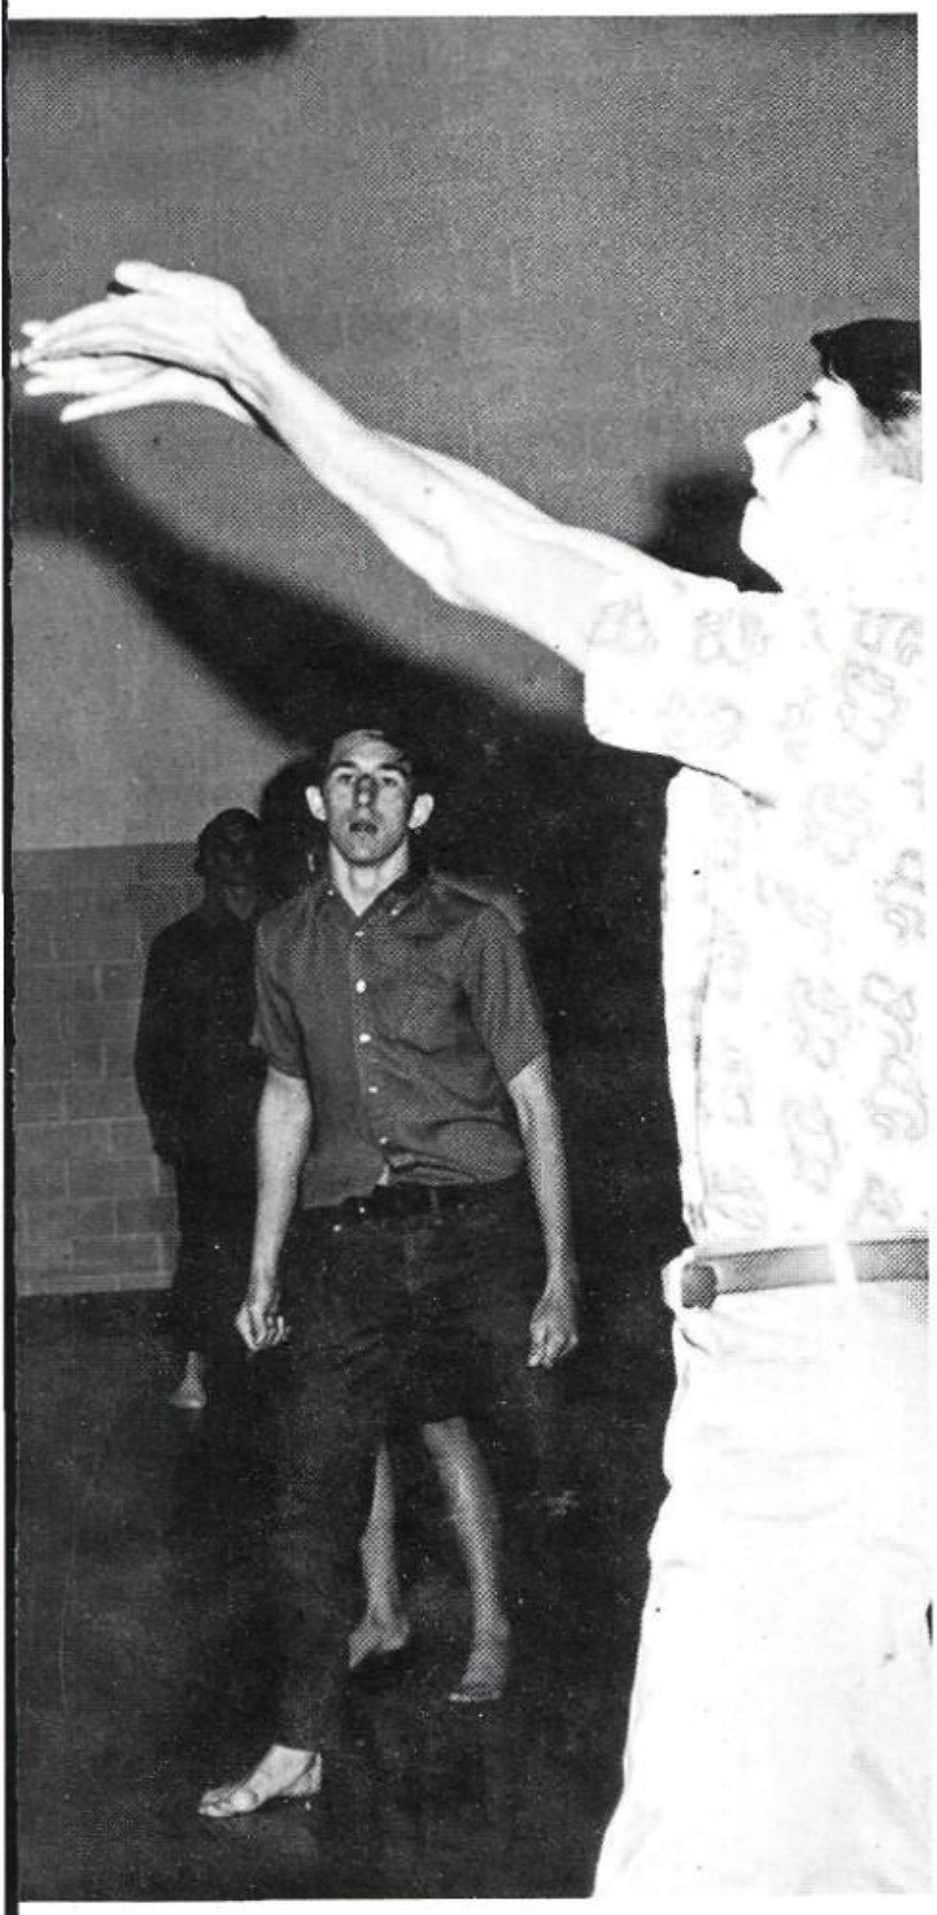
Sports are a big part of McCollum's curriculum as are English and Social Studies. The Intramural games played in the Spring between advisories are favorite lunch-time spectator sports as classmates support their advisory teams. The Faculty-Lettermen game is a highlight of the sports year at Mc. Every year the faculty meets club members in a sometimes brutal and always hilarious battle of the brawn over a bruised knee that takes place in the gym. Many a student, though not particularly interested in volleyball, fast for weeks in order to see their friends and enemies defeated on the volleyball court.

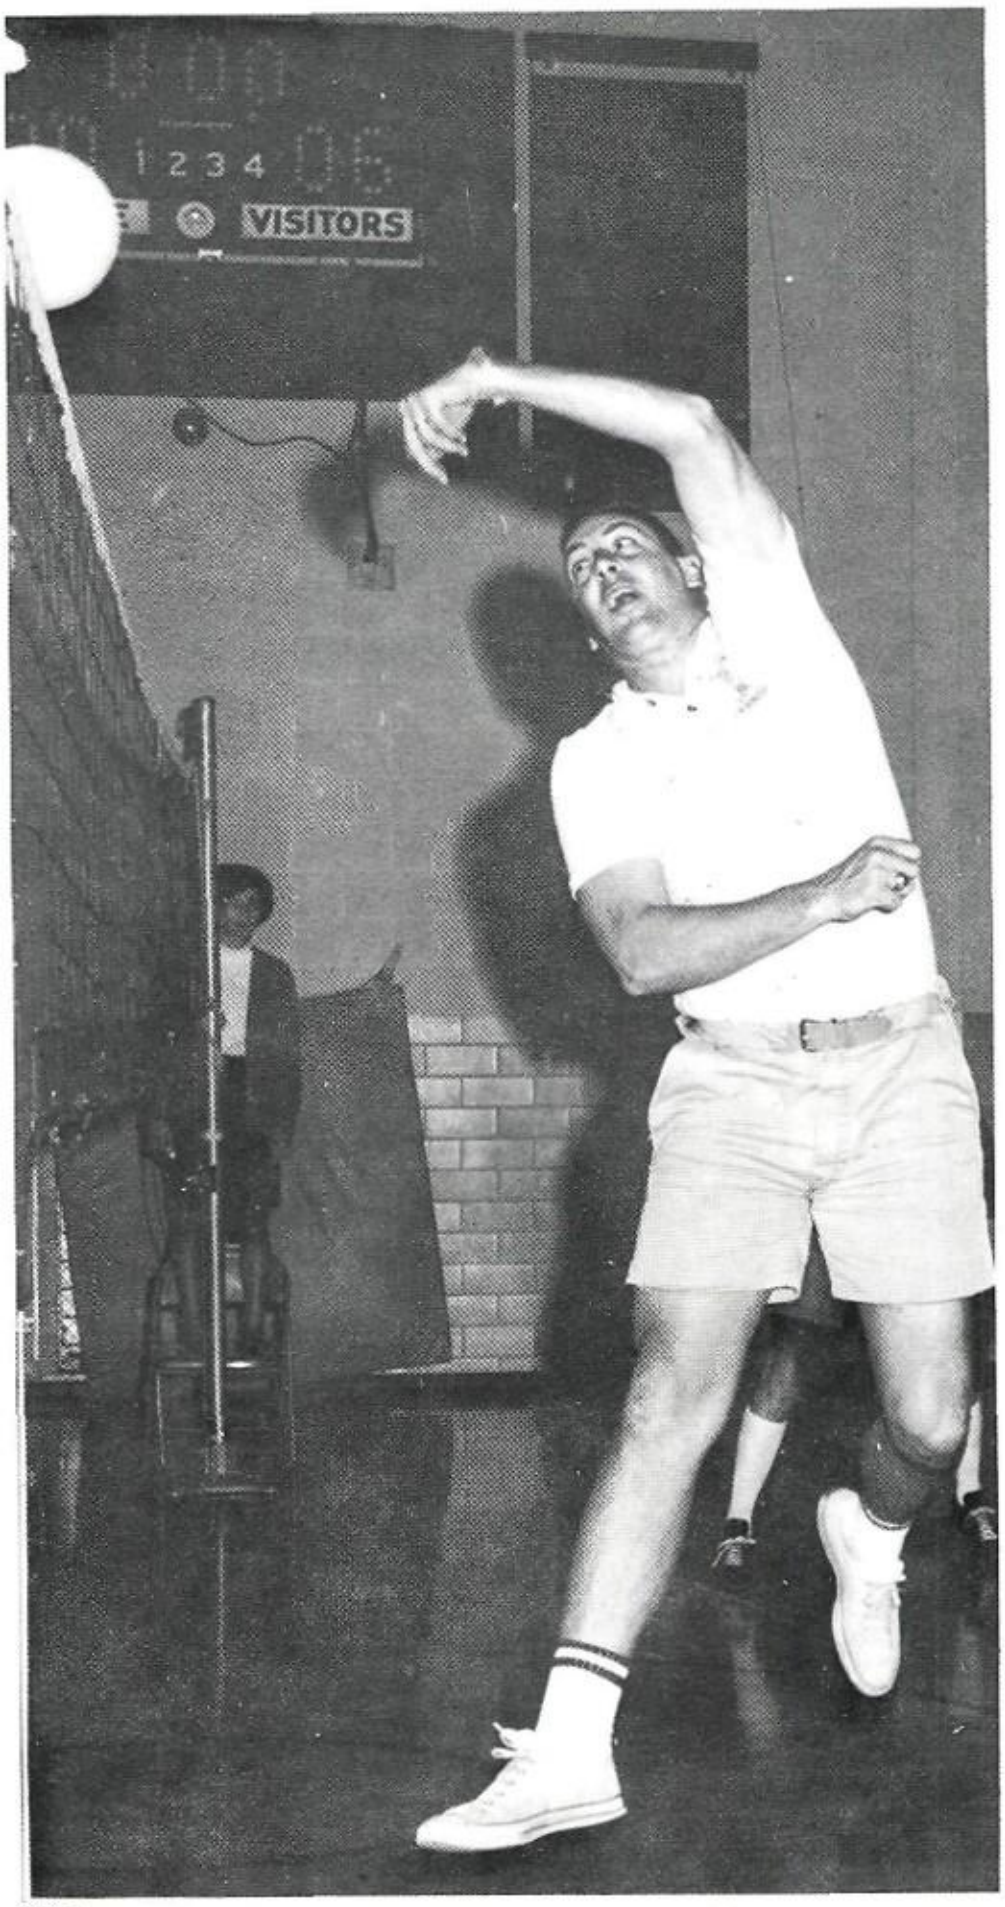




Invite Competition







Candidates Campaign

For Council Offices

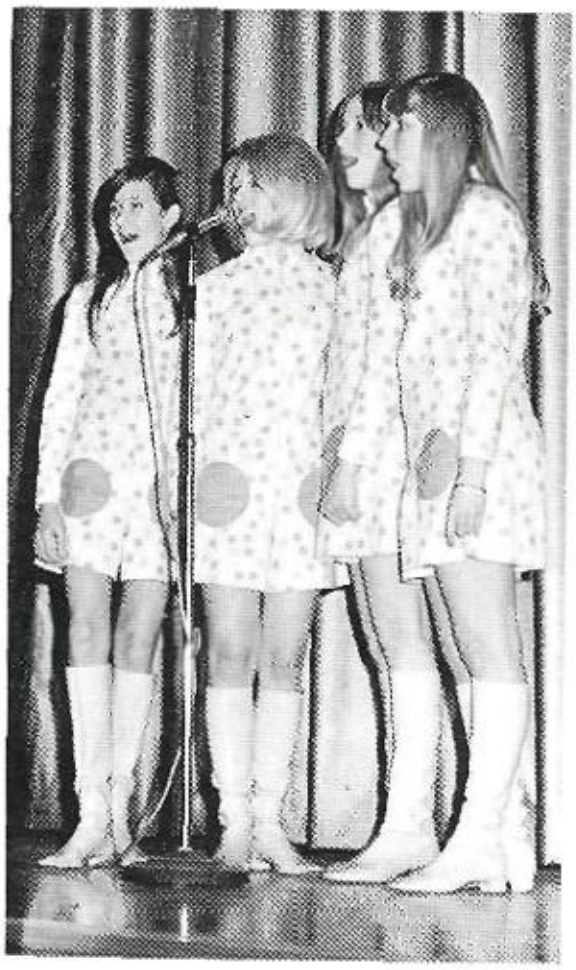
Sock it to me, sock it to me, sock it to me, sock it to the Student Council.

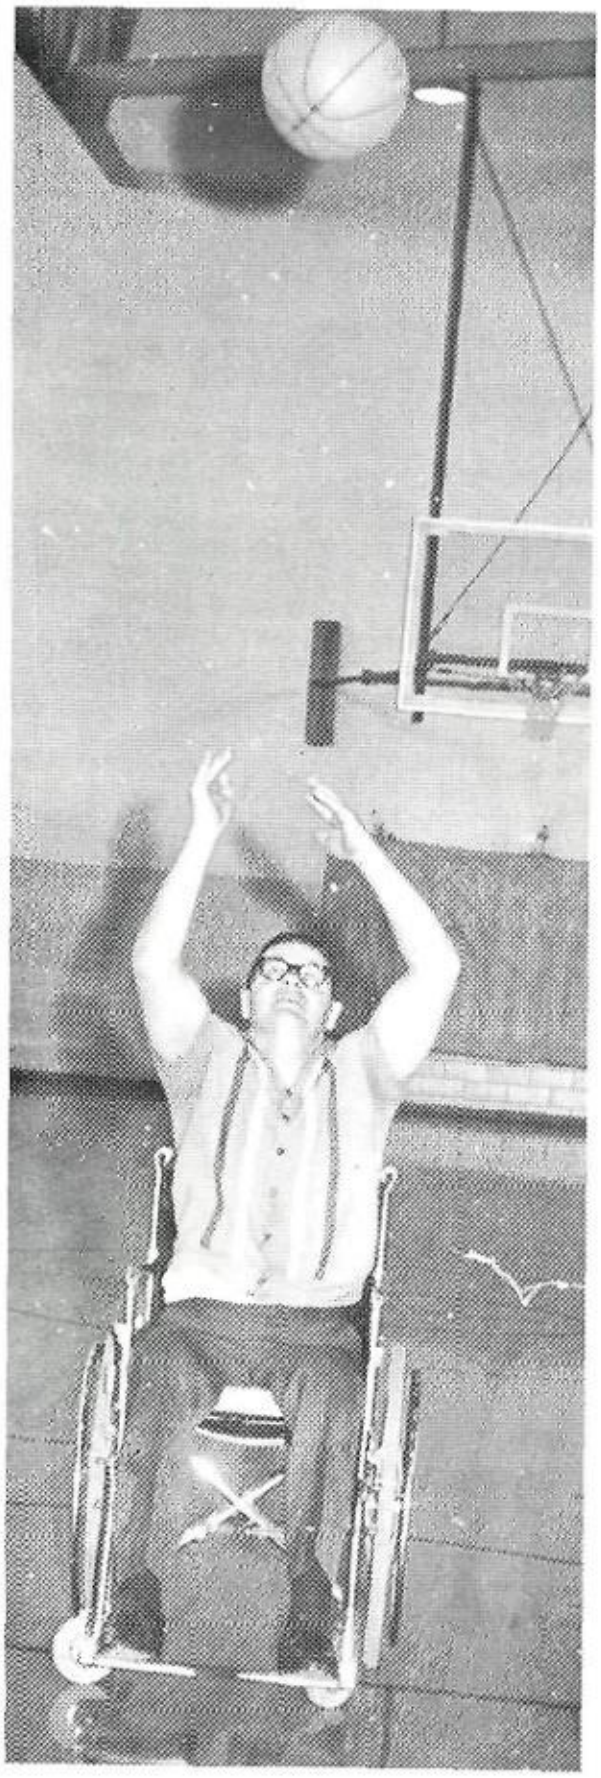
During Student Council election week candidates for president and vice-president were allowed to give a brief speech explaining their platforms. Following the speeches, the candidates presented comedy skits. In these sketches loyal supporters of the nominees entertained the voting audience. Such humorous tidbits as take-offs on "Bonnie and Clyde" and "Laugh In" were included in the program.

During advisory periods the following day, the students voted; the outcome of the election showed that Teresa Gonzales and Martha Ashley had captured the positions of president and vice-president.

Variety: Drama

Assemblies and talent shows seemed to be in vogue this year and with them lovely girls. The Lenow sisters and other familiar student performers took their usual place in the numerous talent shows. At the first assembly of the year freshmen were enlightened with the knowledge of what Cowboys are made of (rubber hoses, yarn, stakes, et cetera?). During Brotherhood Week speakers of Protestant, Catholic, and Jewish faiths were brought to the school by the Student Council. The Southern School's Assemblies Program presented a one-man-wheelchair-basketball demonstration for the only paid assembly of the year.





Entertain Cowboys

The stalwart faces McCollum playgoers had become accustomed to seeing on stage left last year for greener pastures, leaving only one experienced actress to lead the new players. The season began with the Tri-C sponsored production of Samuel Caufield's "Dream World"

Melanie Moore took her expected place in the title role as Skyler Keats Winters. Other cast members were Robert Fletcher (Gary Winters), Annette Walker (Jean Newton), John Dabney (Howard Newton), and Thomas Ragsdale (Rodney Stoner).

New talent stepped forth when the Senior Class presented a melodramer, "Little Nell the Orphan Girl or a Fight for a Woman's Honor". Johanna Burroughs played the role of the child of the long lost background with other various senior aspirants completing the cast. A French love story, "The Maker of Dreams" was selected as the University Interscholastic League one act play contest entrant by director Mrs. Beverly Cook. Melanie Moore once more came through for the drama lovers in her portrayal as the maker of dreams. Mike Lasley and Suzette Nichols were the amorous duo.

There are those activities which might be labeled "seniors only". Along with such standards as the National Honor Society induction (34 seniors) came many inovations.

The senior picnic is traditionally held at Brackenridge Park, but this class spent a day touring Germany, Mexico, Japan, Thailand, Switzerland, and a host of other countries, weaving textiles on an IBM computer, and seeing San Antonio from the tallest observation tower in the western hemisphere; HemisFair was the site.

Teenettes held a dance honoring the class of '68. A live band provided music for the after school affair.

Another innovation of the year was senior field day, which entailed competition in softball and volleyball among the senior advisories. The spirit of sportsmanship in which the event was carried out made the day most pleasurable for spectators, participants, and referee (particularly the latter).

Seniors had grown tired of the stark look of the school lawn, so six oak trees were purchased and planted by the seniors to give some variety to the school landscape.

Baccalaureate speaker the Reverend James E. Brown discusses the program with John Gonder, Supt.

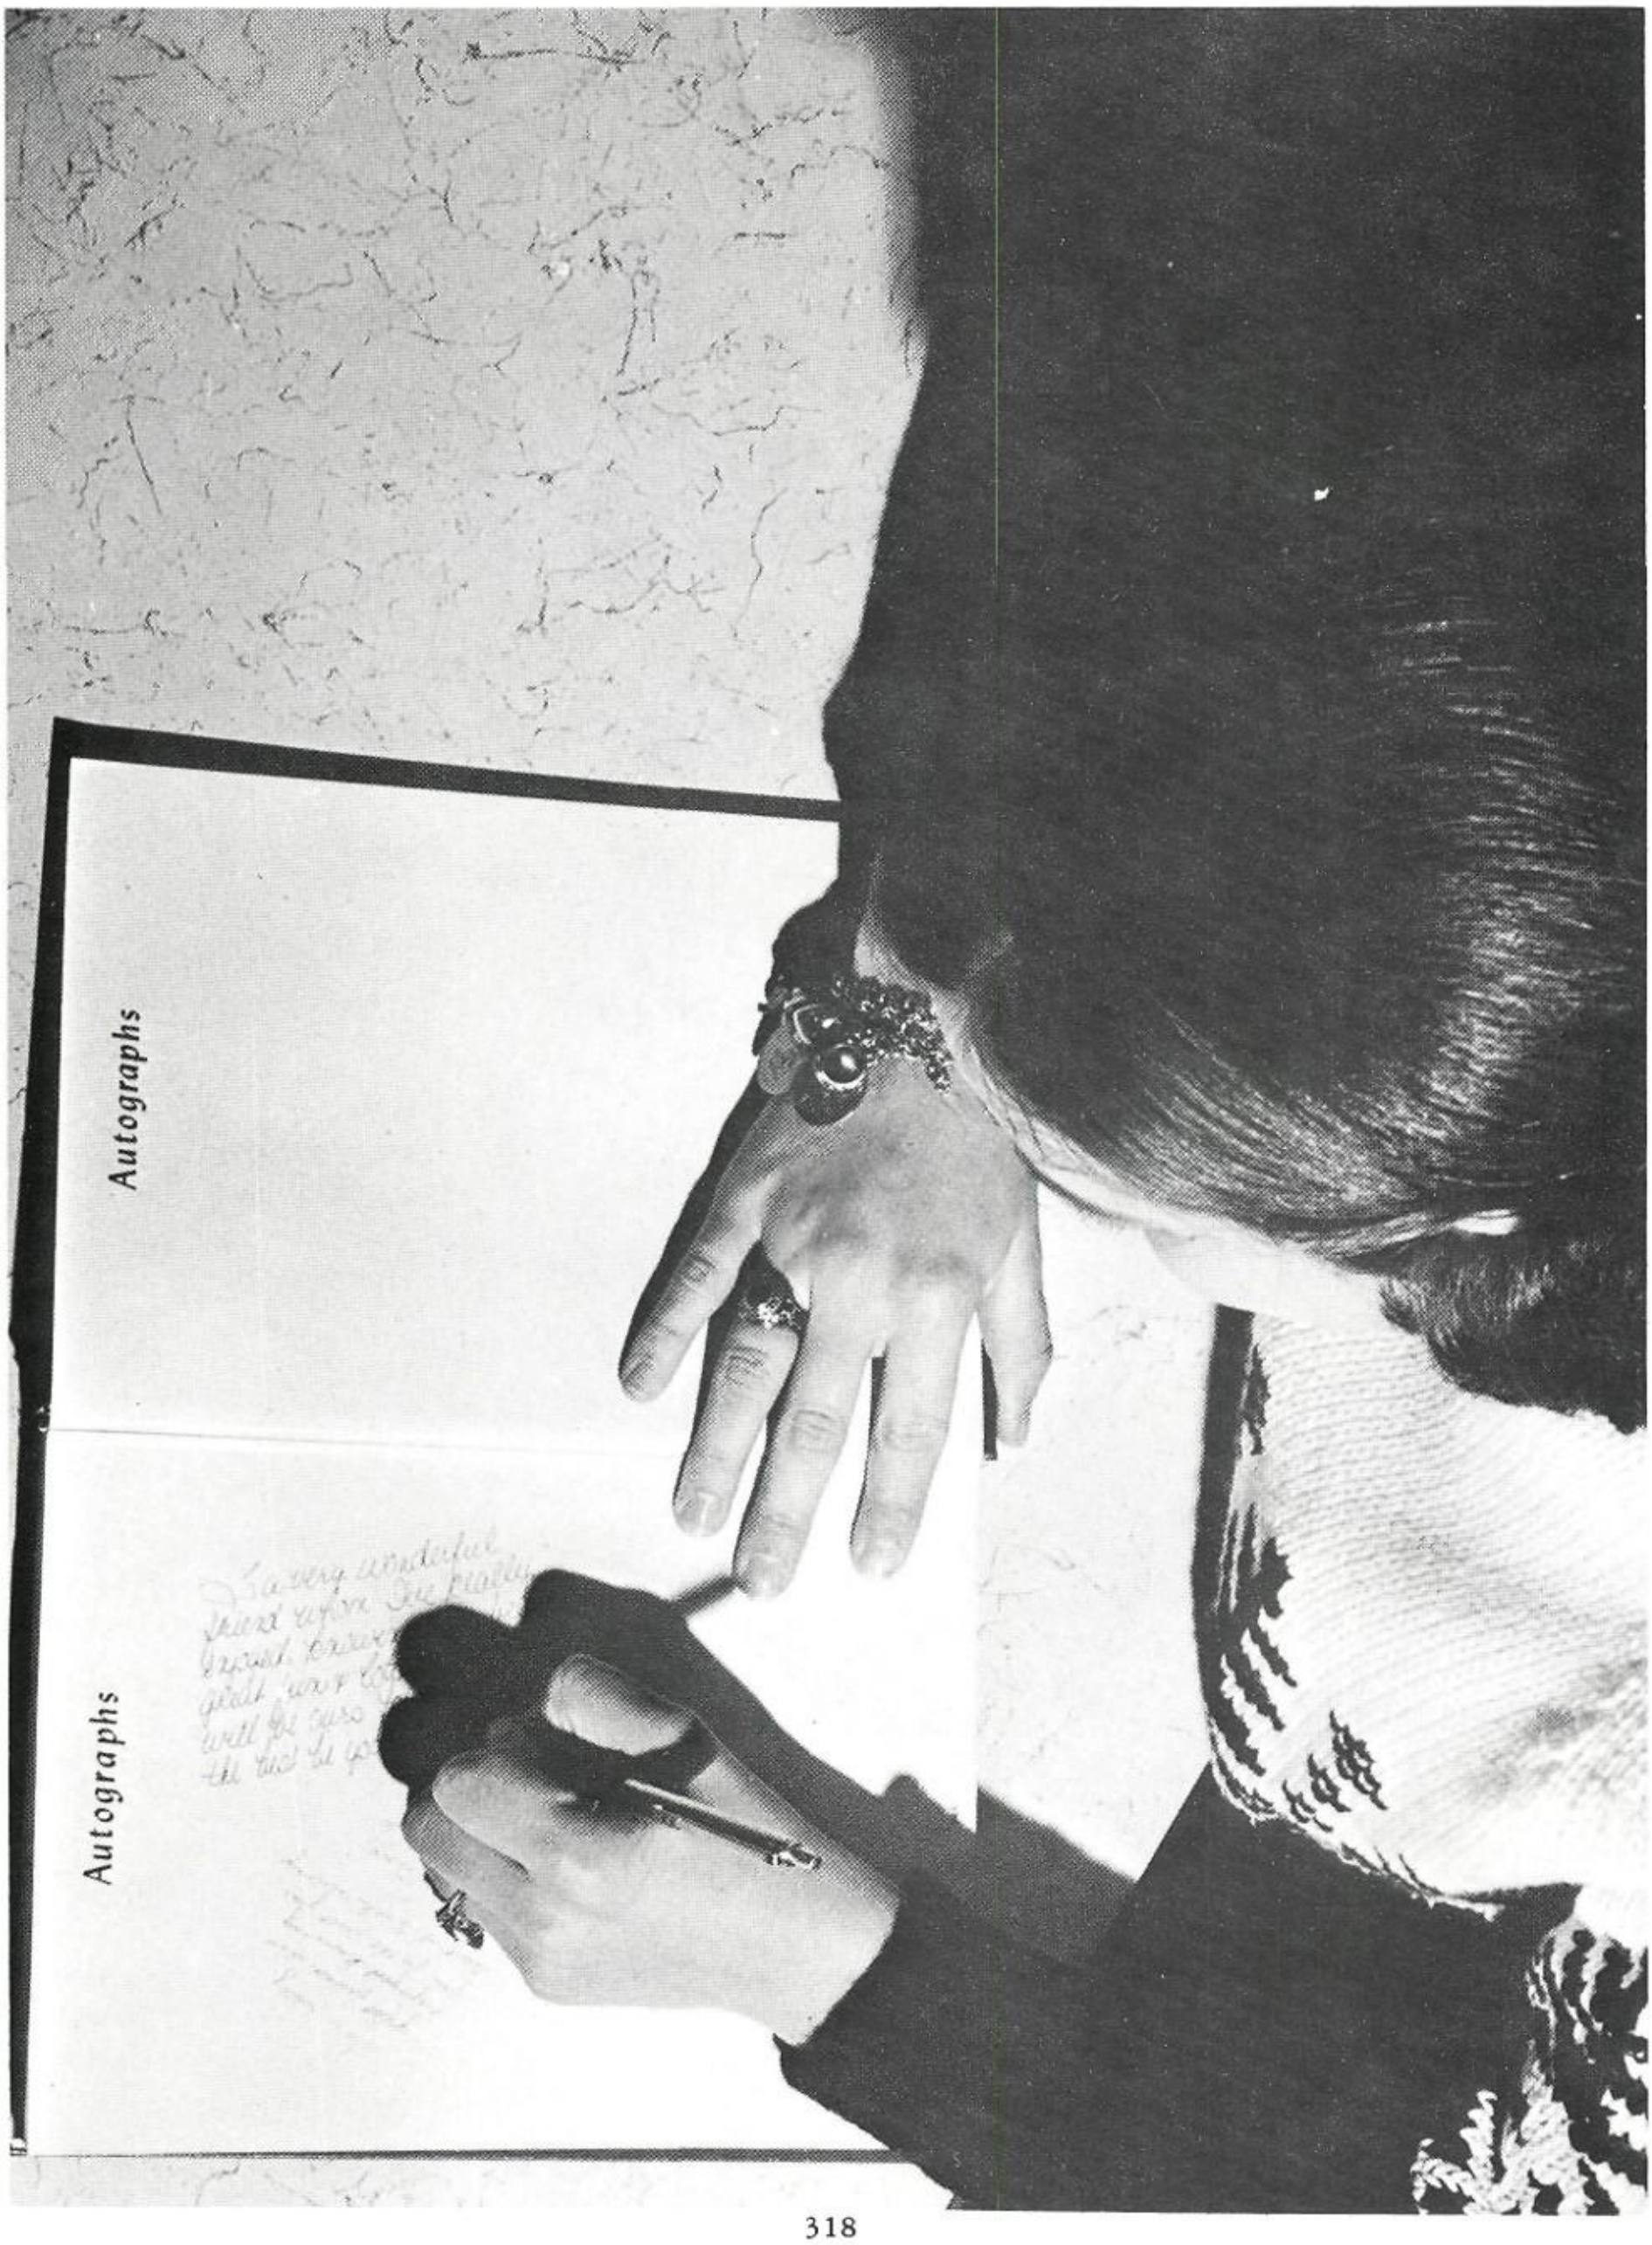
Miss Ella Armstrong, accompanied by Mrs. Al Wilson, sang "How Great Thou Art".

Among the many special occasions of life, high school graduation has to be close to the top of the list of most solemn. But there is the lighter, human side, not only did the class of '68 beat zombies for "keeping a straight" face during the procession, but proved its wit in cheering up its more nervous members while waiting in the auditorium basement for the grand entrance.

Staff Reveals Secret



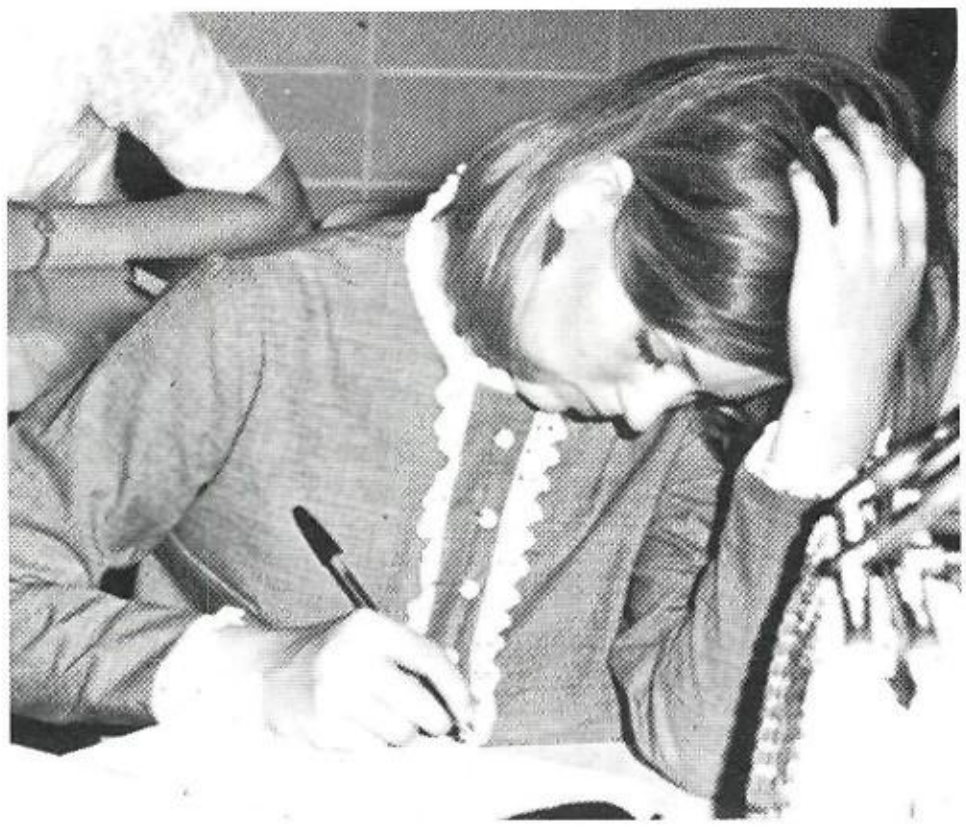
Of 1967 Wrangler

Every September within the steaming walls of the cafeteria, there takes place an occurence entitled WRANGLER "Signing Party". Preceeding the nightime event, there was a hectic day filled with scores of boxes containing the until-then mysterious '67 WRANGLER.

Closed curtains, unopened boxes, and hushed whispers filled the hours between 3:30 and 7:30, at which time, the doors and curtains and boxes were opened to the already sweltering students.

It seems the Cowboys are destined to "hot air" no matter where they go—the "Signing Party" was no exception. Amid shots of "Which Linda Smith?" and "Where's my pen?", the pages of the '67 WRANGLER were lost beneath witty phrases, poetic verses, and melodramatic "Good-byes" of another class of Cowboys.

Hand Movements Build



Symbolizing various school activities are the many expressions of students' hands. As hands move performing different functions of school activities, students experience the daily routine of high school.

Every beginning has an end, and the end has appeared for the 1967-1968 WRANGLER. The challenge of recording an exciting year of Cowboy life is completed and is replaced by a certain emptiness. The HANDS OF McCOLLUM, guidance, knowledge, leadership, entertainment, competition, and support have helped to capture the fond memories we will long cherish.

The history of McCollum 1967-1968 is not completed without recording our personal experience at Cowboyland. Registration, happiness, new classes, WRANGLER "Signing Party", football games, arguments with friends, tears, pep rallies, CHANTER issues, laughter, Cowboy Christmas, dreams, new infatuations, proms, advisory, surprises, ambitions, honors, sadness, finals, graduation, goodbyes, and the school song are just a few of the vital memories that made our short life at McCollum a world in itself.

The WRANGLER of 1967-1968 developed through ideas, imagination, and hard work of the entire yearbook staff, but the product is not our book; it belongs to Cowboyland. We, the student body, are the part of McCollum who made the memories possible, we will remember our life as a Cowboy whenever we turn the pages of the 1967-1968 WRANGLER.
